

“Wood Island”

About three quarters of a mile in length, ranging nearly East & West; this island is full of trees except a few rods on the eastern point, where the lighthouse is erected. The east & the NE sides of the island, has a bold and rocky shore, with a good depth of water, at a short distance, the island makes the eastern side of Winter Harbor.