

Spring point ledge extends off N from the point on which Fort Preble stands. The black buoy is placed on the outer part of the ledge in 15 feet at low water, at the distance of 350 yards from the point of upland -- this ledge shows itself at half tide.